LOVE INCARNATE

God is Love.

We hear this sentence uttered throughout the centuries. We affirm it as the definitive claim of Christianity. But what does this mean? The saying ‘God is love’ can sound and feel very abstract to the ears. What does it mean to say ‘God is love’?

In order to understand what this concretely means, we can adhere to the words of Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI. In one of his encyclicals, he writes that being Christian is not the result of an ethical choice or a lofty idea, but the encounter with an event, a person, which gives life a new horizon and a decisive direction.

This encounter, this event, is the Incarnation. The Word becoming flesh. Jesus Christ. Love itself in the flesh.

Our God is not a distant God. He wants to make His life known to us, and we need him to reveal himself if we are to know who he is. Logic and the sciences can inform us that God exists, but we actually need God in order to not just know that he exists, but to know who he is, what kind of God He is.

The early Church sought to articulate this event, this encounter, in a truthful manner. Some attempts were not successful. Many people in the early years of the Church sought to either diminish Jesus’ humanity or his divinity. In other words, they tried to argue that Jesus was just a ‘super human.’ He was not really God. Others tried to argue that Jesus was not really ‘human’ - He just took the image of a human. Both of these are of course false.

Jesus is fully human and fully divine. He is a divine person with two natures - fully human and fully divine. But we can only understand this if we understand that God is love. Love is both in the flesh and beyond the flesh. It is not an emotion. It is an act of the will - it seeks the good of the other to its completion. To say that God is Love is to say that God by His essence wills our good. To say that God is in the flesh is to say that the love of God can be experienced in the flesh - through the Incarnation. ‘God is Love’ has become visible through Jesus.

We love God because He first loved us. Being Christian means that our decisive direction is to love, because we have experienced and encountered the event of being loved by the Father through His only-begotten Son. The direction leads to the inevitable conclusion of loving others. We look at other people not simply with our eyes and our feelings, but from the perspective of Jesus Christ. His friend is my friend.

This is the direction that Peter takes in Acts of the Apostles. He realizes that God wishes to reveal Himself as love to not only his chosen people, but to all the nations. Peter comes to realize that the mission of the Church is to show the whole world this experience, this encounter with Infinite Love in the flesh.

That is our vocation as Church. After acknowledging this event of being loved by God, we are to go out and propose that experience to others - no matter who the individual may be. May we configure our lives to God like Peter, so that we may profess, through concrete living and example, that God is love.

Fr. Andrew - Homily from 2021

LITURGY OF THE WORD

Remain in my love.

This Easter season, as the paschal mystery continues to unfold before us, Jesus focuses our attention on love being at the heart of discipleship. Jesus' words and actions were always rooted in his profound love for us. As disciples, we grow closer to Jesus and his mission by sharing God's love with others. In God's love, he is revealed.

In the first reading, Peter humbly speaks while the Holy Spirit falls upon those who are listening, resulting in more baptisms. In the second reading, John writes of our call to love one another. In the Gospel, Jesus tells his disciples to remain in his love. He calls them friends, no longer slaves.

THE SACRAMENT OF CONFIRMATION

is scheduled to be administered by Bishop Ronald Gainer next Saturday,
May 11, 2024
at 10:00 a.m. at St. Columba

The Sacrament of Confirmation is related to Baptism and, with the reception of the Holy Eucharist, fully initiates an individual into the Catholic community. In Baptism we are united personally to Christ's saving act. In Confirmation we are united more fully to the Church and her mission. Thus, Baptism makes us a Christian; Confirmation makes us a witnessing Christian. Confirmation gives a further outpouring of the Holy Spirit, confers the Isaianic sevenfold gifts of the Holy Spirit, and empowers one to live the Christian life more fully.

In the Diocese of Harrisburg, the Sacrament of Confirmation is administered to eighth grade students.

SIXTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Just as the origins of Lent have to do with accompanying people in the final stages of preparation for baptism at Eastertime, so does the structure of the Easter season help the newly received Catholics take root in the community. This is the season of “mystagogy,” which means “reflection on the mysteries.” This means that new Catholics are remembering the sacraments by which they become one with us, and are sorting out the implications for their everyday life. They can understand the excitement of Cornelius and his family in the first reading, filled with the Holy Spirit, and so eager to begin their new life that they overwhelm St. Peter. The second reading and the Gospel today likewise help our new brothers and sisters explore their new life as an experience of God’s tender love.

Long ago, our tradition named these newly baptized adults and children the “neophytes,” from Greek words meaning “newly planted.” Newly planted in the garden of faith, they look to us to provide the fertile soil in which their new life can take root and grow. You can help. If you have “neophytes” in your parish, a card or note of welcome, or warm words of congratulation, are still timely. It’s Easter!
